NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

In the opinion of management, the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States for interim financial statements. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (US GAAP) for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of only normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included.

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2004 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2004. These condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited annual financial statements.

2. REVENUES

2.1 License research and consulting agreements.

In accordance with a research agreement signed on August 27, 2003 with Brystol-Myers Squibb, the Company recognized revenues of $10.0 million, including a milestone payment of $5.1 million and amortization of the up-front payment received in October, 2003 in the amount of $1.8 million.

The Company recognized license and research revenues of approximately $3.3 million from multiple partners, including Biovail, Glaxo SmithKline, Merck, Servier, and others which are undisclosed.

2.2 Other revenues.

In accordance with the long-term research and product development agreement signed with Corning in December 1998, the Company recognized revenue of approximately $0.2 million corresponding to the royalties for the three month period ended March 31, 2004.

3. INVENTORY

Inventories consist principally of raw materials and finished products, which are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) or market. The components of inventories were as follows:

(In thousands of U.S. dollars)	March 2004
Raw materials	825
Finished goods	166
Inventories, net	991
Inventories, net	991

4. SHAREHOLDERS' EQUITY

Over the three first months of 2004, as a result of exercises of stock options, the Company issued 25,000 ordinary shares, nominal value €0.122 ($0.138) per share.

5. EMPLOYEE STOCK-OPTION PLANS

In March, 2004, 151,000 options were granted to new employees and senior employees with a four year vesting period.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

This report on Form 6-K contains forward-looking statements. We may make additional written or oral forward-looking statements from time to time in filings with the SEC or otherwise. The words 'believe,' 'expect,' 'anticipate,' 'project' and similar expressions identify forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date the statement is made. Such forward-looking statements are within the meaning of that term in Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Although we believe that our expectations are based on reasonable assumptions within the bounds of our knowledge of our business and operations, our business is subject to significant risks and there can be no assurance that actual results of our development and manufacturing activities and our results of operations will not differ materially from our expectations. Factors that could cause actual results to differ from expectations include, among others:

- our product candidates, if approved for marketing, may not produce significant revenues and we rely on our partners to determine the regulatory and marketing strategies;
- our product candidates, in commercial use, may have unintended side effects, adverse reactions or incidents of misuse;
- we may enter into a collaboration with a third party to market or fund a proprietary product candidate and the terms of such a collaboration may not meet our expectations:
- our delivery technologies or product development efforts may not produce safe, effective or commercially viable products;
- our collaborators could elect to terminate or delay programs at any time and disputes with collaborators or failure to negotiate acceptable new collaborative arrangements for our technologies could occur;
- we may be unable to manufacture or, if our products are successful, scale-up the manufacturing of our products economically or on a commercial scale;
- · unexpected events could interrupt manufacturing operations at our facilities, which could be the sole source of supply for these products;
- after the completion of clinical trials of products incorporating our technologies and the submission to the FDA of a New Drug Application, or NDA, for marketing approval and to other health authorities as a marketing authorization application, the FDA or other health authorities could refuse to accept such filings or could request additional pre-clinical or clinical studies be conducted, each of which could result in significant delays, or such authorities could refuse to approve the product at all;
- our product candidates could be ineffective or unsafe during pre-clinical studies and clinical trials and we and our collaborators may not be permitted by regulatory authorities to undertake new or additional clinical trials for product candidates incorporating our technologies, or clinical trials could be delayed;
- we may experience significant delays in clinical trials on our products;
- we may not realize any revenue from milestone or royalty payments under our license agreements with our partners, including Bristol-Myers;
- even if our product candidates appear promising at an early stage of development, product candidates could fail to receive necessary regulatory approvals, be difficult to manufacture on a large scale, be uneconomical, fail to achieve market acceptance, be precluded from commercialization by proprietary rights of third parties or experience substantial competition in the marketplace;
- · technological changes in the biotechnology or pharmaceutical industries could render our product candidates obsolete or noncompetitive;
- we may face difficulties or set-backs in obtaining and enforcing our patents or defending claims of patent infringement by others; and
- we may need to raise substantial additional funding to continue research and development programs and clinical trials and could incur difficulties or setbacks in raising such funds.

Forward-looking statements are subject to inherent risks and uncertainties, some of which cannot be predicted or quantified. Future events and actual results could differ materially from those set forth in, contemplated by or underlying the forward-looking statements. Statements in this report on Form 6-K and in our annual report on Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003 including those set forth in 'Risk Factors' in that report, describe factors, among others, that could contribute to or cause such differences.

Results of Operations

For the first quarter, Flamel reported total revenues of $14.4 million, compared to $3.1 million in the first quarter of 2003.

License and research revenues totaled $13.3 million, which included a $5 million milestone payment from Bristol-Myers Squibb (BMS), as well as amortization of the $20 million up-front payment the Company received from BMS in October, 2003 and a further $3.0 million in research and development work performed during the quarter. License and research revenues during the quarter also included approximately $1.5 million from Glaxo SmithKline, $0.5 million from Biovail as well as revenues from multiple other partners. License and research revenues in the first quarter of 2003 totaled $2.0 million and consisted primarily of revenues received from Glaxo SmithKline, Servier, and various undisclosed partners.

Revenues from product sales and services during the quarter declined to $0.9 million, compared to $1.0 million in the first quarter of 2003, reflecting diminished services to Corning and the planned transition away from contract manufacturing activities. Other revenues declined from $0.2 million in the yearago period to $0.1 million.

Costs and expenses of Flamel's research and development increased to $7.9 million, from $3.8 million in the year-ago quarter. This increase was largely as a result of increased clinical and preclinical study work, related to projects developed internally and also with our partners, as well as the increase of 16% in the value of the Euro against the U.S. dollar versus the year-ago period. Cost of goods and services sold decreased to $0.8 million, compared to $1.1 million a year ago, largely in conjunction with decreasing revenues in this category. SG&A increased to $1.3 million from $1.0 million, mainly due to increase of the Euro against the U.S. dollar.

As a result of fluctuations in the amount of quarterly revenues, which may arise from the signing of research collaborations, license agreements or other extraordinary transactions, interim results are not necessarily indicative of the operating results for the full year.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Cash on hand at the end of the first quarter was $105.4 million, versus $14.3 million at the end of the first quarter a year ago.

Net decreases in cash and cash equivalents amounted to a decline of $4.2 million for the first three months of 2004, primarily due to increased purchase of equipment and materials used in our research and development activities, as well as to the decline in value of the US dollar.
